

Rowena's Inn Blends Old- World Opulence With New-World Convenience

For Immediate Release

June 30, 2011

(Harrison Mills, British Columbia) A grand, English-style manor converted into a boutique resort, blending old-world opulence with new-world convenience-Rowena's Inn is the Lower Mainland's best kept secret.

At Rowena's Inn, indulgence is a way of life. Secluded on a lush 160-acre estate, Rowena's evokes an atmosphere of understated elegance. The rooms feature waterfront and garden views, and sumptuous king-size beds, dressed in deluxe duvets, feather pillows and crisp linens.

Large windows bathe the European-infused elegance in natural light and the furniture exemplifies a timeless stylishness. The cabins feature heated-slated floors, deep-soaker jacuzzi tubs for two, glassed-in showers and wood-burning handcrafted river rock fireplaces. An extravagant hot breakfast is served to guests every morning.

Rowena's outstanding personalized service and attention to detail is guaranteed with only five rooms in the Inn, the 2-bedroom gatehouse and four cabins. Professional, courteous staff has become the unquestioned hallmark of Rowena's Inn through a commitment to helpful, responsive and attentive service.

For guests who like to golf, Sandpiper Golf Course, an unforgettable 18-hole 72 par course, is located right beside the inn and is heralded as one of British Columbia's leading resort courses. Framed by the rugged backdrop of the Cheam Mountains, Sandpiper Golf Course is 'forest golfing' at its finest with abundant wildlife consisting of eagles and sandpipers and in two distinctly different environments — the open fairways alongside the river and the quiet serenity amongst the ancient 180 ft. Douglas Firs.

Rowena's in-house restaurant, River's Edge, invites guests to savour BC's west coast fare. Highlights include the largest Yorkshire Puddings and lobster at the best price in the country.

At Rowena's Inn, guests can share cocktails on the lawn, read a book in the English gardens, unwind in the waterfront pool, relax in the hottub, enjoy High Tea in the afternoon or surrender to an afternoon of aromatherapy with a rejuvenating in-room spa treatment.

By car, Rowena's Inn is only 1.5 hrs east of Vancouver and just over half an hour north of Abbotsford. Complete with its own 2100 ft air strip, Rowena's Inn is a 20-30 minute flight from downtown Vancouver.
